About us

Rakutu Trading And Projects is a 100% black owned company, established in 2007 by emerging entrepreneur, Mr Thabo Thobakgale.

The establishment of the company is firmly grounded and driven by a philosophy of service passion, quality, efficiency and the highest standards of professionalism. The company specialises in a variety of construction industry-related products and services such as building maintenance and renovations and the refurbishments and distribution of containers. Rakutu services clients in both the private and public sector.

A strong successful contribution lies in the management's hands on approach and the implementation and maintenance of proper control systems.
